Jaguars On Display At CJC Concours, Little Switzerland, NC

Folks, we are in the home stretch toward our 2018 CJC HEAD FOR THE MOUNTAINS Concours, being held from July 12 to July 14! The days are longer, the (grand)kids are out of school, and we're ready for some cooler weather!

As of this writing, we have 46 attendees, and 16 judged vehicles! We know you are coming because you booked a room so get your registrations in. Particulars are below:

REGISTRATION:

We are accepting checks as payment, and as always, payment must be made prior to joining in the fun and/or entering your car for judging. PLEASE POST-MARK YOUR ENTRIES BY JUNE 22!

Costs to the club have increased, so you will notice the increases in the registration.

Your personal registration costs have been the same price for over 5 years. They have been raised to help cover the administrative supplies used for the event.

It was previously understood the meal and the drink costs included taxes and gratuity, but we were informed they did not. The Inn has now included taxes and gratuity in the meal and drink ticket costs.

Drink tickets can only be used at the Patio Bar cocktail hour that precedes the Friday and Saturday night dinners. They are good for one beer, one wine, or one simple cocktail. You will receive one drink ticket per person with each registration. You may pre-purchase additional drink tickets on your registration for $7 each (slightly less than our cost from the Inn).

FRIDAY DRIVE EVENT:

Jerry Ellison has graciously agreed to provide our drive destination again this year. Don Koepnick will lead the group via Scenic Byways to Old Fort, NC, where you will have the chance to visit and tour the Mountain Gateway Museum.

BY DIANE DUFOUR
CJC PRESIDENT

The focus of my article this month is to encourage you to volunteer at our concours in Little Switzerland next month – if you haven't already. Over the years, I have volunteered as a judge, runner, silent auction volunteer, registration desk greeter. This year, Scott and I are assisting Steve Thomas with setting up the show field on Friday afternoon. An update on the concours was recently emailed to all members and is the feature in this month's issue of The Litter Box. Please review it for volunteer opportunities.

At The Gathering at Shelton Vineyards this year, I think it was Kevin Willis who spoke with the event organizers and asked them how they got their members to volunteer. Kevin was told that The British Car Club assigns duties to those members participating in the event. This may be an idea that we need to adopt for our event.

Next weekend, the June meeting is going to be in Blowing Rock. Thanks to Ann and Mike Rhyne and Jim and Elaine Crowell for taking care of all the details for this event.

See you next month.

CJC Concours at Little Switzerland

FRIDAY EVENING ENTERTAINMENT:

Ramsey Potts of RM Auctions/Sotheby's (<https://www.rmsothebys.com/>) has agreed to spend Friday evening with us, explaining some of the finer details of auctions. It should be an enjoyable and rewarding experience. We are so delighted to have him join! Check out his ad on page 7.

I think everyone enjoyed our movie last year, so we'll be showing another one this year! Let us know what movie you'd like to see – last year we watched The Italian Job. Popcorn will be available!

The CONCOURS Itself – Saturday, July 14:

As in past years, the plan is to park the Judged cars on the grass behind the Restaurant, and the Display cars behind the Inn. Our Field Team will begin escorting cars to their appointed positions on Saturday at 08:00am. There will be no parking on the field prior to Saturday 8am. And all cars must be escorted – both Judged and Display.

Our Concours has become very popular to surrounding car clubs and enthusiasts. Because we are dedicated to the safety of our people, the Inn's property, and our vehicles, and based upon our experiences over the past 4 years, we will be limiting the number of Judged vehicles on the grass field to 30 (same as last year), and the Display vehicles on the grass field to 10. Of course, using the grass area is always subject to weather and at the Inn's discretion.

Luckily, this does not limit the number of vehicles to be judged or displayed!

Overflow (or inclement weather) parking for Judged vehicles will be in the parking lot nearest the tennis court; overflow (or inclement weather) parking for Display vehicles will be in the parking lot nearest Geneva Hall.

SILENT AUCTION:

Barbara Ann Caudill and Colleen Lloyd-Roberts have volunteered to lead the Silent Auction, which is one of the most enjoyable events all weekend! Their team will set up the auction items in the Inn's Great Room. Your mission? To bid on items you could not bear to leave without. Write your name and bid amount on the associated form, then come back multiple times to assure yours is still the highest bid. Then after the Awards presentation, find out if you've won your selected items! Payments will again be accepted via cash, check or credit card. Also – why not do a little Spring cleaning and donate a few items to the cause? Contact Barbara Ann or Colleen if you can volunteer or if you have items to donate.

VOLUNTEERS:

2019 Concours Chairperson – STILL OPEN

Registration / Welcome Committee - short 2-hour shifts of 1-2 people each would be awesome.

Thursday 3-5pm – Don and Peggy Koepnick / Kevin and Nancy Willis

Friday 9-11am – Mary Ann Thomas

Friday 1-3pm – Jerry Calabretta and Ferman Wardell

Friday 3-5pm – Scott and Diane DuFour

Saturday 8-10am – Margaret Bingham

Silent Auction (led by Barbara Ann Caudill and Colleen Lloyd-Roberts)

The team will need both volunteers and donations!

Fund-Raising

Reminder that this is our main fund-raising effort for our end-of-year donation to USO of NC

We try to keep the pricing reasonable for attendees

We look to our Sponsors and Advertisers, amongst others, to help offset costs

Cocktail party / drink sponsors

Silent Auction donations

Raffle sponsorship

We appreciate your continued interest and support of the Carolina Jaguar Club's Annual Concours. The USO of North Carolina appreciates our yearly donation. And we all appreciate the ability to spend quality time with friends old and new, in a most wonderful location. Looking forward to July - when we Head to the Mountains!

* Special Silent Auction note:

Please remember to bring your silent auction items. You still have time to visit your favorite shops to ask for a product or gift certificate. The proceeds of the auction go to the North Carolina USO.

Any item that isn't sold will be given back to the person who brought it. Thanking you in advance.

I need volunteers on Saturday to watch over the auction items and to answer questions pertaining to it. You will need to volunteer for one hour shifts. Please contact me at barbara.caudill07@gmail.com if you are able to help.

Report: Jaguar plans to relaunch XK sports car alongside redesigned F-Type

For the last two years, the F-Pace and more recently released E-Pace have been the perennial cash cows for Jaguar. In 2017 alone, the F-Pace SUV accounted for two-fifths of all the brand's sales, and has sold more examples than any vehicle in Jaguar's 70-year history.

That doesn't mean Jaguar has abandoned its sports car roots, as a recent report from AutoCar indicates.

When talking to Hanno Kirner, the head of product strategy at Jaguar Land Rover, the British automotive site found out that the F-Type will serve as the catalyst for an entire portfolio of sports cars.

The current F-Type, which is based heavily on the discontinued XK platform, is slated for an overhaul in 2019. The redesigned F-Type will be underpinned by a flexible platform able to accommodate sports cars of various sizes, seating arrangements and powertrains. These sentiments mirror those of Ian Callum, the head of design at Jaguar. Callum, the mastermind behind the F-Type sports car, hinted at the return of the XK sports car. According to AutoCar, a design concept for an XK replacement was in development, but was axed. Now, it appears as though Jaguar gave Callum and his design team the green light to restart the project, which won't be launched until at least 2021.

At launch, the next-gen F-Type and subsequent XK will be powered by Jaguar Land Rover's Ingenium 2.0-liter turbo 4-cylinder engine paired to an inline-six, altogether producing 295 horsepower. Other engine options will replace the current crop of V6s, as Jaguar Land Rover look to shed the remaining residue of its former Ford ownership.

In January, AutoCar reported that Jaguar's flagship XJ sedan may go all-electric by year's end, thanks to the EV powertrain found in the I-Pace crossover. The XJ will become more closely aligned with high-performance EV sedans such as the Tesla Model S P100D and upcoming Porsche Mission E. That EV XJ is being co-developed alongside an off-road-ready EV wagon similar to the Audi A4 Allroad and Volvo V90 Cross Country.

A LEGEND 50 YEARS IN THE MAKING

From rock stars to royalty (and quite a few other VIPs in between), the Jaguar XJ has been the luxury vehicle of choice—and our flagship sedan—for five decades. While it has a storied past, because of continuous innovation throughout the years, it also has a bright future. This year, to celebrate its 50th year in production, we've created the limited-edition Jaguar XJ50.

Though the Jaguar S-Type is more than 10 years out of production, it looks as though it could have come off the assembly line yesterday. With design cues that hark back to other Jaguar vehicles, the Jaguar S-Type is well on its way to becoming a treasured classic. Learn more about the Jaguar S-Type and other classic Jaguar vehicles at our Jaguar Heritage site.
